

KAMP KUMQUAT

Welcome back, Kampers!

Day 1 safety orientation
with Director Ned

Help Karl spot
the DANGER!

Tick & insect protection

Cover up

Light colors. Long sleeves and pants. Tuck pants into socks.

Ask before you spray

A counselor helps with repellent.

Zip the tent

Close screens. Set up your net.

Check for ticks

After outdoor time, check skin and clothes. Tell a counselor.

The bugs are ready for Karl. Is Karl ready for the bugs?

Hiking in the woods

Look! A new buddy
with a striped tail!
And such lovely leaves
under my boot!

Stay with your group

Listen to the leader.
Keep your buddy beside you.

Stay on the trail

Poison ivy? Leave it alone.
Skip unknown plants and berries.

Give wildlife space

Never pet, chase or feed animals.

If you get separated

Stop in a safe place. Stay put.
Call or whistle for help.

Spot Karl's two woodland mistakes!

Waterfront safety

Buddy and permission

Ask the lifeguard. Stay together inside your assigned swim area.

Life jackets for boats

Wear one that fits and buckles. Never rely on arm floaties.

Walk on the dock

No pushing or surprise jumps. Enter water only as instructed.

Water, shade, sunscreen

Drink water. Take shade breaks. Reapply sunscreen every 2 hours and after swimming.

Trouble in the water?

Shout for a lifeguard. Stay out.

Tiny floaties. No buddy. Wrong side of the buoys. Karl, stop!

Archery safety

Wait for Mr. Burns

Handle equipment and shoot only on his command.

Point toward the target

Never at people.
Never into the sky.

No dry firing

Never release the string without an arrow.

Leave dropped arrows

Stop. Tell Mr. Burns.
Go downrange only when told.

Mr. Burns calls “STOP!” What does everybody do?

Campfire safety

Stay behind the circle

Walk. Keep games away from fire.

Grown-ups manage the fire

They light it and add wood.
Never toss anything in.

Small fire. Safe conditions

No fire during a fire ban or when staff say it is unsafe.

Cold out before bedtime

An adult stays, adds water and stirs until every ember is cold.

Karl's marshmallow tower can wait. Where should he stand?

Karl's bedtime safety check

Cover up. Check for ticks.

Stay with your group
on the trail.

Buddy up at the water.

Wait for range commands.

Give the fire space.

Hurt, sick, worried or unsafe?
Tell a counselor right away.

One last mistake: what did Karl forget to close?
